Smith Leaves Geneva

U. S. Envoy Returns Home With a Pledge West Will Push Try For Indochina Peace

WASHINGTON (AP)—Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith flew home from the Geneva conference on Southeast Asia today with a pledge that the West will continue "a sincere, patient effort" to negotiate an Indochina peace settlement.

Smith blamed "inflexible opposition by the Communists" for failure of the Geneva talks to arrive at a permanent settlement for Korea.

His return from the talks with the Reds precedes only a few days a visit here by Britain's Prime Minister Churchill during which President Eisenhower probably will urge British cooperation in setting up an international conference on anti-Communist defenses in the vital Southeast Asia sector.

Hopes the British were ready to go along on such a plan had begun to wane over the past weekend, however, partly as a result of French political developments and partly because of apparent concessions made by the Reds to keep the Geneva talks going.

The French development which dimmed the united front outlook was the installation of a new French government headed by Pierre Mendes-France who promised a settlement in Indochina—or his resignation—within a month.

Smith, after a seven-week stint as chief of the American delegation in unsuccessful talks with the Reds at Geneva, stopped in Paris yesterday for confidential talks with the new premier.

Asked whether those conversations aroused fear that the new French leader might offer sweeping concessions to the Reds in order to obtain a cease fire, Smith replied: "I have nothing to say about that."

"On Indochina, the basic issues between the two sides have also been made clear," he told reporters.

"We have stated unmistakably the principles which we believe are essential to a just and lasting settlement. In an effort to establish those principles, the United States and its associates have made a sincere, patient effort to negotiate, and this effort will continue."

The United States' role during the rest of the Geneva meeting, he said, will be that of a "friendly and interested nation, neither a belligerent or a principal in the negotiations."

In talking about the Korean phase of the Geneva parley he declared:

"During the Korean phase we explored every possibility of a settlement. We met with inflexible opposition by the Communists, and we were unable to make progress toward the unification of Korea as a free and independent state."

"We exposed the fact that at least for the present the Communists are unwilling to recognize the role of the United Nations in Korea, or to permit the Koreans themselves to decide their own future."

Churchill and Foreign Secretary Eden are due in Friday. Their talks with Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles will be informal and, aides indicate, as secret as possible.

The Indochina crisis is the No. 1 topic. Others include the organization of a European Defense Community and atomic energy problems.

U. S. officials said that the American government is still urgently interested in getting a united front of Allied European and Asian nations set up to halt Communist expansion in the Indochina area. They think a conference would be useful to that end.

Until about ten days ago authorities figured Britain would most likely go along on some move toward creation of a Southeast Asian alliance. That estimate was based on the official belief that Britain had decided the Geneva conference would fail to produce peace in Indochina.

But on Friday and Saturday, France organized a new government which staked its existence on getting an Indochina peace in 30 days. Then the Reds at Geneva offered new concessions to keep the talks going and agreed to military discussions on ending the war in Laos and Cambodia as well as in Viet Nam.

Summer Is Here

Summer officially arrives this evening so now we suppose we can expect some hot weather. This we've been having is only a sample. This, by the way, is the longest day of the year so tonight will be the shortest night. That means you'll lose less sleep due to the heat.

Fair and humid tonight and Tuesday. High Tuesday near 95. Low tonight near 75.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks: 56.4, rise .2.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 72; and 92 at 1 p. m., and 93 at 2 p. m.

One year ago today here high 96, low 63; two years ago 96, 68; three years ago 81, 65 with .20 inch rain.

Airbase-C. of C. Picnic Planned For Gay Evening

Everything is set for the first annual Sedalia Air Force Base-Sedalia Chamber of Commerce picnic which will be held at Liberty Park Tuesday evening, everything except trying of chickens and the making of salads, cakes, pies and other food.

The food preparation comes just before the picnic, but there is expected to be food in abundance with each family bringing well filled baskets with enough food for themselves and for one single airman. Table service should have name tags.

A short program will be held at the band shell before the picnic supper is served and a program of entertainment will follow.

Lake Geneva Fights Getting Air Academy

Factions Feud With Stevens; Papers Served

(Sedalia made a bid for the Air Force Academy, but was not one of the three selected sites by the commission. While we wanted it, as did many other communities, two of the ones selected as possible sites do not want it. Pearson tells about one of these two in the following dispatch.)

By Drew Pearson

With a score or more American cities bidding for the new Air Force Academy, one city—Lake Geneva, Wis.—definitely doesn't want to be the site of the new West Point for the Air Force. So emphatic are its residents that they have filed suit in the U. S. district court in Washington to enjoin Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbott against selecting Lake Geneva.

What happened was that when a delegation of Lake Geneva citizens called on Talbott, he refused to hear them.

"I am not going to listen," Talbott told the group. "I'm fed up with this whole business. I'm not interested in what you have to say and I'm not going to accept it verbally or in documentary form."

The delegation was composed of John McCollow, attorney; Curtis McKay, prominent resident of Lake Geneva, and Franklin Walsh, a leading dairy farmer.

Having been rebuffed by Secretary Talbott, they went down to court and filed suit to prevent him from selecting Lake Geneva, on the ground that he behaved "in an arbitrary and capricious manner in refusing to receive information," from them.

Talbott's choice for the Air Force Academy has now narrowed down to Colorado Springs, Colo., Alton, Ill., and Lake Geneva. In visiting these sites, he was entertained in Lake Geneva by a delegation of merchants in what is known as the city of Lake Geneva. This, according to the delegation which visited Washington, is composed of about 4,200 people, chiefly merchants, most of whom do want the Air Force Academy located there.

However, these 4,200 people, according to the delegation, do not represent the 20,000 people in the surrounding area, which is largely a resort community, of whom the majority feel that the Air Force Academy would completely change and spoil the area.

Those who filed the suit claimed that Talbott was taken into camp by Lawrence Whiting, president of the Chicago Furniture Mart and a resident of Lake Geneva, who told Talbott that the majority of people there want it. Whiting has been in touch with Talbott frequently and helped arrange for Talbott's visit to the Wisconsin resort area.

The delegation which enjoined Talbott in federal court pointed out among other things that the land in Lake Geneva is expensive and for the Air Force to acquire property in that area would cost some $12,000,000. On the other hand, the people of Colorado Springs are willing to give the Air Force land free; so the Wisconsinites hope the Air Force will go west rather than linger along Lake Michigan.

If Secretary Talbott does not agree, he may be in for an interesting court battle.

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—Officers announced today that another man was picked up yesterday and is being held for questioning in the A. L. Patterson murder investigation. Sheriff Ralph Mathews of Russell county withheld the man's name.

The sheriff declined for the time being to give any information, explaining it might hinder his investigation. Nine or 10 have been questioned since the anti-vice crusading Democratic nominee for Alabama attorney general was shot to death in his parked car in downtown Phenix City Friday night.

Meanwhile, a former FBI agent was assigned to help with the investigation while grieving relatives prepared for Patterson's funeral.

Chinese Hold 30 From US

Information Is Given To United States In Talks on Exchange Of Detained Persons

GENEVA (AP)—The Chinese Communists confirmed today they are holding 30 American civilians in prison, but said one civilian and a number of military personnel listed by the United States as detained were either dead or missing.

This information was passed to the United States in the fourth meeting between representatives of the U. S. and Chinese Communist delegations on the exchange of detained persons.

The United States agreed to permit 15 detained Chinese nationals to leave the United States and return to the China mainland.

The Chinese, on their side, supplied preliminary information on the list of approximately 83 American civilian and military personnel believed by the United States either to be in prison or to be prevented from leaving China.

The Chinese said W. L. Winter, a missionary, had been arrested for espionage, but died in prison Feb. 27, 1951. Winter was a mission worker in a leprosarium in Kiangsi Province.

In the military category, the Chinese said three fliers—P. E. Voorhis, H. D. Weese and A. D. Hart Jr.—had died of injuries received when they parachuted from their plane over Antung, north China.

The United States had listed 11 crew members of a U. S. Naval patrol plane and a rescue plane as probable detainees, but the Chinese representative said the two planes crashed into the sea and the men were missing. The names of these 11 were not disclosed.

The Chinese said one of the 32 listed by the United States and being in prison was never detained and is now living in Hunan Province. He is the Rev. John B. Maye of Scranton, Pa., a Roman Catholic missionary.

The Chinese did not say when any of those detained would be released—if at all.

Sedalian Hurt Badly In Kansas Highway Accident

WICHITA, Kas., (AP)—Earl W. Bozarth, 19-year-old Air Force enlisted man from (1706 South Ohio), Sedalia, Mo., was reported in serious condition at the Wichita Veterans Administration Hospital today, victim of a highway accident near Rialia, Kan.

Hospital authorities said Bozarth, an airman 2C stationed at McConnell AFB, Wichita, was suffering from possible brain concussion and possible internal injuries. Also injured in the two-car, head-on collision on US54 east of Rialia, some 60 miles east of Wichita, were five Joplin, Mo., residents, according to the Stage Highway Patrol. They included:

Frederick E. McLean, 21, Army sergeant en route to Camp Stoneman, Calif., for overseas assignment; home address 925 North Harlem, Joplin; head and body bruises and cuts; held for observation at the air base hospital here.

Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Gooch and Mr. and Mrs. George L. Clark, relatives, in Mo. Leans, taken to an El Dorado, Kan., hospital for treatment.

Highway Patrolman John F. El Dorado said Bozarth, driving alone, apparently dozed at the wheel just before the crash about 5:30 a. m.

Bryan Addresses Middle East Conference, Meets Ambassador

The Rev. David M. Bryan returned to Sedalia Saturday from Chicago where he had addressed a regional eight states conference of the American Friends of the Middle East. Mr. Bryan was invited to speak to the group on the subject, "Interpreting the Problems of the Middle East to the American Public."

The American Friends of the Middle East is an organization dedicated to interpreting the Middle East to America and interpreting America to the people of the Middle East. It's president is Dorothy Thompson, the famed newspaper columnist.

Other people on the program of the two day meeting, held at Lake Forest College in suburban Chicago, were Edwin Locke Jr., American ambassador at large to the Middle East and His Excellency, Abdul Moem Rifai, Ambassador of Jordan to the United States. Jordan is the country which contains most of what Christians usually speak of as Palestine. Bryan reports that he had lunch with Ambassador Rifai last Friday and enjoyed a most interesting visit with him concerning the problems of Jordan.

Like all representatives of the Arab world, Mr. Bryan said that Ambassador Rifai is extremely concerned about the plans and intentions of Israel and the desperate plight of 875,000 of his people who

First 1954 Wheat Arrives In Sedalia

Indochina Talks Go On In Private

Chou Is Expected To Leave Conference Later This Week

GENEVA (AP)—Indochina conference delegates worked in private meetings today to arrange military negotiations for a cease-fire in Laos and Cambodia. The formal nine-power sessions were recessed until tomorrow.

Red China's Premier-Foreign Minister Chou En-lai was the only top conference figure still in Geneva. U. S. Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov all flew home over the weekend.

Chou was reported ready to follow their example later this week.

French Premier-Foreign Minister Pierre Mendes-France delayed his arrival at the conference to actively push his campaign for peace in Indochina. He promised the French National Assembly he would resign unless he got an armistice by July 20.

French delegation sources expected him here sometime later this week.

Before their departure, Eden, Molotov and Smith agreed with the other conference delegates that separate, direct military negotiations would be held on Laos and Cambodia. They already are under way for Viet Nam.

Cambodian Foreign Minister Tep Phann opened discussions with Chou yesterday but there was no immediate contact between the representatives of Laos and Cambodia and those of the Communist Vietnamese.

A main question to be decided was who would take part in the direct talks and whether they would be held in Geneva or in Indochina.

The two Indochinese kingdoms have made it clear they will not negotiate with representatives of the Communist "resistance" governments, which they and the French contend are "phantoms" with no popular support.

The Laotians and Cambodians want to deal only with the Vietnamese, charging it is their forces who have invaded their territory.

Saturday's agreement called for the military representatives to report on the cease-fire talks for all three Indochina states within three weeks, or by July 10.

Concordia Boy Shot During Fishing Trip

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A 10-year-old Concordia, Mo., boy was shot and critically wounded yesterday while on a fishing trip on the Grand River near Deepwater, Mo. The boy, Wilford Bauer, was brought to a hospital here suffering from a bullet wound in the stomach. His father, Oscar Bauer, said the boy and two young brothers had wandered away from the fishing site to shoot at cans. He said the younger boys were unable to give an account of the incident.

Young Bauer remained in a critical condition today at Children's Mercy Hospital.

Clinton Wants SAFB Named for Lt. Spore

Soon the Sedalia Air Force Base will have a new name and, while Sedalia wants it named in honor of Lt. George Whiteman, Clinton is boosting for it to be named in honor of Lt. James Dudley Spore.

The Sedalia Democrat was first to suggest the name of Whiteman, a Sedalia boy and the first American airman killed at Pearl Harbor as World War II began.

This past week The Clinton Eye announced several Clinton groups are backing Lt. Spore, a Henry County boy, who was last reported as missing in action as an airman during World War II.

Lt. Spore was the son of Mrs. Lula Spore, 408 East Green, Clinton, and a brother of Mrs. R. T. Spangler, 606 South Third, Clinton.

A native of Clinton, Spore was active in church work there and at an early age was vice president of the furniture firm operated by his parents. He served as secretary to State Senator Arthur Lindsey and was a member of the Elks and the Rotary Club.

Entering the Air Force as a cadet in January, 1942 he won his wings as a pilot and was assigned to the 46th Troop Carrier Wing as a "DC-3 pilot" on Sept. 9, 1942 he was transferred to the Sedalia Air Base, later being sent to California.

His overseas service began with a flight to Australia and from there he began flying supplies to outposts in the Pacific. It was on one of these flights that his ship was reported missing.

Rebels Bomb Garrison Town, Threaten to Attack Capital

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—Insurgent leaders announced today the bombing of Coban, a garrison town in central Guatemala, and threatened to bomb Guatemala City, the seat of President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman's Communist-supported government.

(For earlier details on the situation inside Guatemala read the story and see the picture on page 12.)

All residents of the capital were urged in a clandestine radio broadcast of the Guatemalan anti-Communist "liberation army" to take cover—an obvious bid to shake the grip Arbenz has sought to clamp on the country through the imposition of martial law.

Headquarters of the resistance movement in Tegucigalpa told of the bombing of Coban yesterday in the land, sea and air campaign to overthrow the Arbenz regime. Coban is a town of about 7,000 population in the highlands, 60 miles north of Guatemala City.

The planes were reported to have taken off from Esquipulas, a southern Guatemalan town of 2,750 known chiefly for a Roman Catholic Church dating from 1737 and a figure of Christ carved in dark colored wood that is known as The Black Christ of Esquipulas.

The anti-Red leaders said their ground forces were pushing ahead in a three-pronged drive aimed at key railroad road communications in the southern part of the country. They contended the Arbenz government was making exaggerated claims about its support among the people and that the revolution, launched last Friday, was winning more and more support.

In New York, Guatemala's delegate to the United Nations, Eduardo Castillo-Arriola, denied a series of rumors:

1. That fighting has broken out in Guatemala City.
2. That the chief of Guatemala's army, Col. Carlos Diaz, has taken refuge in a foreign embassy.
3. That a new invasion had begun from El Salvador.
4. That the Roman Catholic archbishop had fled.

Castillo-Arriola, speaking on the basis of a telephone call from Foreign Minister Guillermo Toriello, said the only military action was taking place at Gualan, a town of 3,000 on the Notagua River in east Guatemala near the Honduran frontier.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Robert J. Dowd, 71, former clerk of the Kansas City Municipal court died today after an emergency operation.

He had served 26 years in the post before his retirement in 1949. His father, the late Jerry Dowd was the first marshal of Kansas City.

Calls All UN To Withhold Aid to Fight

Action Comes After Soviet Uses 60th Veto Of Sessions

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. Security Council called unanimously last night for a cease-fire in Guatemala and for all U. N. members to withhold aid from the fighting forces there.

The action came after the Soviet Union cast its 60th veto in council history on behalf of Guatemala's leftist government. The veto defeated a motion to refer the Guatemalan complaint of aggression to the Western Hemisphere's regional organization, the Organization of American States (OAS).

U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., council president for June, said the Soviet veto showed obviously the Russians have "designs" on the Americas. He warned angrily:

"I say to the Soviet delegate: Stay out of the Western Hemisphere. Don't try to start your plans and conspiracies here."

Despite the Russian vote, Guatemala has already asked the five-member inter-American Peace Committee of the OAS to help stop the invasion against President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman's government. The committee scheduled a meeting in Washington late today.

The cease-fire call was voted after Guatemalan Delegate Eduardo Castillo-Arriola charged neighboring Honduras and Nicaragua, backed by the United States and the United Fruit Co., had connived in an aggression against Guatemala's territory by mercenary expeditionary forces.

Lodge hotly defended his government and denied the charges. He said information available to the United States "strongly suggests that the situation does not involve aggression, but a revolt of Guatemalans against Guatemalans."

The council took no action on Guatemala's request that it send a peace observation commission at once "to prove the connivance" of Honduras and Nicaragua.

The Guatemalan delegate told the council his country had been invaded from Honduras Friday by mercenaries and bombed by P47 planes of North American manufacture, the latter coming from Honduras Friday by mercenaries and bombed by P47 planes of North American manufacture, the latter coming from bases on Nicaragua and Honduras.

He claimed to have documentary proof linking the leader of the invasion, Guatemalan exile Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, with Nicaragua and "the government of the North," an obvious reference to the United States.

He accused the U. S. State Department of defaming his government with its charges that it is Communist-influenced and American bans on arms shipments to his country had left it defenseless.

He conceded that communism had "a certain support" in Guatemala but said even if it were outlawed "this campaign would find another pretext."

He charged the invasion had been sparked by the fruit company because his government is expropriating large tracts of company land under its land reform program.

He also produced the surprise charge that two fliers of U. S. citizenship had crash-landed, wounded, at Tapachula, Mexico, yesterday after an attack on Guatemala. In Mexico City, the Mexican air force chief of staff, Col. Carlos R. Berganza de Victoria, said he had no report of any such incident.

Looks like the Air Force Academy should take another peak at the Central Missouri spot. None out here will resist the idea of reconsideration. Certainly the air force is not going to plant the Academy in a location that doesn't want it.

So, the welcome sign still is out in Central Missouri, Mr. Secretary!

Light Voting Is Reported In Maine Fight

PORTLAND, Me. — Light voting was reported in the hottest day of the year today in Maine's primary in which Sen. Margaret Chase Smith battled a man she claimed Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) apparently planted in the race against her.

But women, among whom Mrs. Smith has strong support, were reported turning out in several spots around the state.

The feature bout in the primary is Sen. Smith, no friend of McCarthy, against Robert L. Jones, who is for the GOP senatorial nomination. Mrs. Smith was regarded widely as likely to win in a romp.

Here in Maine's largest city balloting before noon was described by city officials as "very light." That was the story, too, in Lewiston, Auburn, and Bangor.

The twin industrial cities of Biddeford and Saco followed a similar pattern.

A couple of polling places in Augusta, the capital, reported balloting was a little ahead.

The mercury in Portland hit 83, a new high for the month, shortly before 10 a.m.

Mrs. Smith and her youthful rival campaigned through election eve, with the senator contending that Jones apparently is McCarthy's candidate.

That is the closest Mrs. Smith has come to openly accusing the Red-hunting Wisconsin Senator of attempting to engineer her defeat in the Republican senatorial primary.

And it was her nearest approach to a direct attack or her competitor, Robert L. Jones.

Jones is a McCarthy supporter. Mrs. Smith definitely is not.

Contestants closed their campaigns last night with tandem television appearances from the same Portland studio.

They met head-on in a corridor with no exchange of pleasantries audible to by-standers.

Jones told reporters he did say "how do you do."

Mrs. Smith had spoken of McCarthy in an earlier TV interview with commentators-columnist Drew Pearson that was filmed several days ago in Washington.

Jones followed through by saying Pearson was "brought in here to try and ruin me."

French Smashing Through Villages In Indochina

HANOI, Indochina. — French tanks, artillery, planes and gunboats and Vietnamese infantrymen smashed through a series of Viet-minh-infested villages 18 miles northwest of Hanoi today in an overnight mop-up.

A French spokesman said the raiders pushed through eight villages yesterday on the south bank of the Red River, between Hanoi and San Tay.

More villages were under fire today.

Small French naval gunboats pumped machinegun fire into the villages while planes and artillery pounded them with high explosives. Then Vietnamese infantry supported by light tanks, smashed their way through the villages one by one.

Elsewhere in the delta, small patrol clashes flared during the night and early morning darkness in a dozen different areas, some less than 10 miles from Hanoi.

B26 bombers caught Vietminh supply convoys with bombs on highways the rebels are using to bring up ammunition and rocket launchers to the edge of the delta for a possible assault against Hanoi.

Two Nebraska Towns Partially Inundated
WALTHILL, Neb. — Two north-east Nebraska towns were partially under water early today and hundreds of farm acres were flooded as normally lazy streams, bulging from four inches of rain, overflowed their banks.

More than half of Walthill (population 938) and a portion of Winnebago (population 684) were inundated last night when Omaha Creek left its banks. At least 25 families were evacuated in the two towns.

At Pender, Logan Ditch overflowed its banks, but flooding generally was confined to low-lying farm lands south of town.

The heavy rains, accompanied by high winds and some hail, were general throughout the northeast area, which has become jittery when storm clouds appear. Twisters have taken seven lives in the area recently.

Mundt Thinks Hearing Facts Beyond Grasp

WASHINGTON. — Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.) said today senators could spend the next 20 years investigating the McCarthy-Army row, and still not get all the facts.

But he told reporters he believes the 36-day televised public hearings at which he presided "brought out the salient facts."

Mundt made the statement as he announced postponement of what he termed "consultative talks" to explore the points of agreement among the four Republicans and three Democrats who conducted the hearings.

Mundt had called a meeting of the group for this morning, but it proved inconvenient for several members to attend. He said he hoped they could get together late today, or tomorrow, and among other things sound out prospects for getting Special Counsel Ray H. Jenkins to help write a "verdict" in the inquiry.

Jenkins told reporters he is ready to agree to take on the job. "I will be available to do anything directed by the committee as long as it is necessary," he said. "I'm going to see the job through."

Jenkins' statement was in a separate interview at which, in reply to reporters' questions as to whether he might run for the Senate, he said some friends have "expressed doubts about the propriety" of efforts to induce him to run on the crest of publicity he received as counsel in the inquiry.

Jenkins said he has not yet made a decision, but "I'll know within two weeks" whether he will run. There has been some movement in Tennessee to run Jenkins, a Knoxville lawyer, on the Republican ticket.

Replying to reporters' questions, Jenkins also said he regrets he did not answer more fully when he said in a televised interview Sunday that if he does run for the Senate he would be happy to have McCarthy campaign for him.

He said he should have added, but didn't, that he also would be glad to have the support of Secretary of the Army Stevens and others on the Army side.

Jenkins expressed it in terms of "if I should make the campaign, which I doubt."

H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of Defense, whom the subcommittee had dismissed as one of the principals and as a scheduled witness in the McCarthy hearings, demitted over the weekend that the subcommittee unanimously "dismiss the charges against me . . . with a severe rebuke to Sen. McCarthy."

Mundt was asked what he thought the hearings subcommittee might do about Hensel's demission. "My guess is that we would not go into the matter," Mundt said. "Having dismissed Hensel as a principal with the concurrence and urging of his counsel, it would be my feeling that the committee would not go into that matter."

The senator said he has "a whole fistful" of affidavits, including one from Hensel, that the writers want conducted in the official record of the hearings. He said he will submit them to the subcommittee at its next voting meeting.

Mundt said the "fistful" of affidavits includes one from Pvt. G. David Schine, the storm center of the hearings, and a half-dozen or so others.

Harmony was noticeably absent after the first executive session Friday, as which Mundt announced the subcommittee had agreed informally "to try to agree" for unanimity on at least some findings.

Right afterwards Sen. McClellan of Arkansas, Senior Democrat and spokesman for his minority party colleagues, publicly demanded a "house cleaning" among staff members before the group undertakes any new investigations. Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) who as regular subcommittee chairman appointed its staff, retorted that the Democratic demand was "clever, dishonest and extremely dangerous to the country."

A possible new point of controversy — or at least a resurgence of an old one in the many-sided dispute — was tossed in the subcommittee's lap yesterday when H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of Defense, demanded the group unanimously "dismiss the charges against me . . . with a severe rebuke to Sen. McCarthy."

Hensel contended McCarthy had admitted the charges were based on lies. He said McCarthy once told him in keeping with this teaching of an Indian with whom the Wisconsin senator had worked on a farm.

"If one was ever approached by another person in a not completely friendly fashion, one should start kicking at the other person as fast as possible below the belt until the other person was rendered helpless . . ."

Hensel started out as one of the principals accused by McCarthy and his aides of trying to use P. G. David Schine as a "hostage" to sidetrack a subcommittee probe of alleged Reds in the Army. The charges named Secretary of the Army Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams, with Hensel listed as mastermind of the accusations brought by the Army side against McCarthy.

GOP Leaders See Farm Bill Ike Can Sign

WASHINGTON. — Senate and House Republican leaders predicted today Congress will pass a farm bill which President Eisenhower can sign.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) and Rep. Halleck (R-Ind.) gave no details as they emerged from a weekly conference with the President, but Halleck said he hopes the bill will at least "make a start" on the gradual, flexible system of farm price supports asked by the administration.

The House Agriculture Committee has voted to extend for another year the present high-level rigid price supports on basic crops—a program Benson has said he would ask the President to veto. Eisenhower has not said what course he would take if rigid supports were approved.

Halleck emphasized the President's desire for "gradualism" in shifting the price support program to lower, flexible levels. He said the major question now is whether that aim should be achieved by administrative discretion or by congressional action.

But he admitted he was "a little confused" by the House Agriculture Committee's action in voting to make the higher levels mandatory.

Knowland and Halleck renewed their often-made prediction that Congress will adjourn by July 31, and said there are "absolutely" no plans for a special session barring an international emergency.

They said all appropriation bills should be passed by June 30, the end of the fiscal year, and all other "essential parts" of the Eisenhower program can be completed in another month after that.

Joining in the White House conference today was Atty. Gen. Brownell, who Halleck said made a "strong plea" for passage of pending legislation to control Communists. Eleven separate bills making up that program are pending in the house judiciary committee.

The congressional leaders said they promised their support.

In an earlier interview, Knowland said he is confident the Senate will beat down Democratic efforts to revise the administration's reciprocal trade and tax revision bills, but conceded "I may be unduly optimistic."

Neither the Senate nor the House planned any business today. Both arranged brief sessions to pay respects to two members of Congress who died over the weekend — Sen. Hunt (D-Wyo.) and Delegate Farrington (R-Hawaii).

The House has no major legislation calendared for action this week.

The Senate plans to open debate tomorrow on a one-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act, which gives the President authority to reduce tariffs in exchange for similar concessions from other nations.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) and a band of 22 Democrats and Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) planned to offer as a substitute a three-year extension, with added tariff-cutting authority, which Eisenhower originally asked. The President later announced willingness to settle for a one-year extension, without change. The House has approved such an extension.

Knowland said the one-year extension is all the Congress can be expected to act upon this session if it holds to the adjournment deadline. He predicted the trade act will take two or three days.

Then he hopes to call up the 875-page, House-passed revenue bill, which emerged from the Finance Committee in about the form sought by the Eisenhower administration.

It calls for $2,477,000,000 in tax reductions in its first year of operation, with a variety of benefits to corporations, stockholders and individuals. No major tax rates would be changed.

Democrats plan an effort on the Senate floor to boost individual income tax exemptions from the present $600 to $700.

Charles Hiles Hall, route 2, Versailles, charged with speeding 60 miles per hour on Limit from 16th to the Jockey Club, forfeited a $25 cash bond.

Lee Dow Crocker, Warrensburg, charged with running a stop sign at Main and Grand, forfeited a $5 cash bond.

Jerry Lee Wester, 817 West Third, charged with running a stop sign at Third and Washington, forfeited a $5 cash bond.

Seven overtime parkers failed to appear in police court and their cash bonds of $1 each were ordered forfeited.

State Library Now Offers Loan of Art Reproductions

Would a gay painting by a recognized artist add just the right touch to your newly decorated living room? Could you use an animal portrait in the children's room to give them something to think about on rainy days? Have you always yearned for a Grand-mama Moses print but never had the extra funds to purchase one? Your local public library is looking for you in order to help you satisfy any of these longings or to help you with any other problem or project you have in mind where art is concerned.

Patrons of the local public libraries throughout Missouri are being offered a new service with the beginning of a loan of art reproduction program by the Missouri State Library.

The state library collection of art reproductions from famous painters includes works from the classics as well as the modern schools of art, to please a variety of desires on the part of local libraries.

Local libraries will be sent a group of prints which they will keep on hand for six months at a time, allowing sufficient time for local Missourians to view the prints, make a selection and enjoy them in their homes for a while before they must be returned to the library.

Officers, public meeting places, school rooms and other buildings may be the location of the pictures while they are assigned to a certain local library, but primarily the service is to enable the local library to in turn help its patrons with another library service, Price pointed out.

A glance through the list of these reproductions which have been mounted on press-board and are hung by chrome hangers supplied by the library, shows a range of paintings from Thomas Hart Benton's "Louisiana Rice Fields," and "The Music," to Paul Cezanne's "Peasant With Blue Smock Frock," to Rembrandt's "The Student," and "The Mill." Leonardo da Vinci's "The Last Supper," and Anna Mary Moses, "Out for the Christmas Tree," are included in the group of color prints.

Persons borrowing the reproductions must assume the responsibility for the safety and good condition of the pictures borrowed. The local libraries will determine the length of time which they allow patrons to keep the paintings. Local libraries may request the service if they are not now participating in the art loan program and they may also request certain prints named on the list available and desired by a local patron but not included in their current group.

Progress Made On E&R Church New Addition

Progress is being made on the new addition to the Immanuel Evangelical and Reformed Church, which includes an 11 foot basement and two upper floors.

Already the excavation on the basement is nearing completion, with some work still to be done. In the basement there will be a stage, assembly room and dining facilities for the whole church.

The two upper stories will be composed almost entirely of church school rooms, thus relieving a crowded condition which now exists.

One change on the inside of the church will be the addition of folding doors, which space is now occupied by windows in the rear of the auditorium.

The Dean Construction Company is doing the work, and is now ready to begin on a 26 inch footing.

U. S. Information Office Purges Night Blindness May Be Due

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—It may make some people unhappy to have it published, but the White House recently received a confidential memo telling how thoroughly all Democrats had been purged from the U. S. information office and how Harry Truman's picture definitely was not shown on U. S. information bulletin boards abroad.

Reason for the memo was a complaint from good old speaker Joe Martin that the U. S. information offices were still harboring Democrats and were even flaunting Harry Truman's picture overseas. Republican congressmen used this as an excuse to cut the information office's budget by $13,000,000—a drastic cut at a time when Soviet propaganda offices are spending money by the basketful.

So the White House asked for a report and got back this word:

"With respect to the Acheson speeches and Truman-Acheson pictures reportedly on display at our posts in Spain," defends the memo, "We have talked personally with our public affairs officer, Bill Cody, in Madrid. He swears that they have had no Acheson materials for distribution anywhere in the country since the present administration came in. They have had no picture displays of Truman or Acheson anywhere. There were displays of Marshall's picture at the time he won the Nobel Peace prize last year. It is just possible that Truman might have been in one of the pictures with Marshall, but he knows of no such instance. Cody is one of our best men and definitely not an egghead."

The memo is dated May 11, 1954, and signed by able Abbott Washburn, the agency's deputy director, a former executive of General Mills, Inc., and national director of the citizens for Eisenhower during the 1952 campaign.

In the secret memo, Washburn states: "Better than 5,000 people have been dropped from this agency since the Eisenhower administration took over on January 20, 1953. Some 2,300 of these were Americans. The rest were local nationals. In other words, we got rid of almost half of the total number of Americans formerly employed. I doubt whether any other agency in Washington has dismissed, percentage-wise, more employees than we have."

"To say 'they have not cleaned house—it is the same old personnel' is just not true," Washburn laments.

"In order for the agency to reflect administration Republican policy," the memo continues, "We set about the difficult task of filling as many senior executive posts as possible with qualified Republicans. . . . The attached list of senior officers of the agency reveals an overwhelming preponderance of Republicans. There are no Democrats among them. Three are government career men with absolutely no political coloration. One is an independent. We are proud of the high caliber of this team. They are definitely not 'the same old crowd of new deal sympathizers.' To suggest such a thing is extremely unfair to what Ted Streibert (the director) has accomplished in the nine months he has been here."

Note—Originally this political purge was ordered to appease Senator McCarthy, who sent his two junior G-men, Roy Cohn and Dave Schine, on a barnstorming trip through Europe to investigate America's information program.

Farm Leaders' Handouts

It now develops that certain prominent leaders have been collecting soil conservation payments for their own farms at the same time they have been denouncing those payments.

Of all the farm leaders, Farm Bureau President Allan Kline has been the loudest in attacking the soil conservation program.

"Payments for practices which have become a normal and accepted part of farming operations . . . should be discontinued," he told congress with ringing righteousness. "Farmers recognize that the practice of adding fertilizers to tillable acres is a necessary and profitable expenditure for obtaining increased production. Payments should be discontinued on those practices."

Yet the confidential records at the agriculture department show that Kline has been taking handouts for these very practices. In 1947 he collected $231.91 for contouring corn and spreading fertilizer on his farm in Benton County, Iowa. In 1948 he accepted another $113.08 for plowing under green manure. In 1949 he applied for $234 for fertilizer practices and another $54 for other conservation steps. This was prorated down to $212.14. Again in 1950 he collected total application in 1951 was for $307.20, but this $247.14 for spreading lime and fertilizer. His was reduced to $281.43.

More Farm Payments

The same pattern has been followed by other farm leaders, including National Grange head Herschel Newsom, who testified on Capitol Hill: "We feel that there is little justification for making (soil conservation) payments to the farmers who would automatically carry out necessary conservation practices at a profit to themselves without incentive payments. The inability of low-income farmers to finance these practices has been used as an argument for direct subsidy payments, but we cannot solve basic farm problems by putting farmers on a dole. We recommend elimination of the present system."

Yet Newsom has been accepting subsidies for his own 492-acre farm in Bartholomew County, Ind., ever since 1943. He collected $216.44 in 1943, and submitted applications each year thereafter. In 1949, for example, he collected $105.25. In 1950 he accepted $199.05. In 1951 his mother, Mrs. Nellie Newsom, made out the application and got $90.

The powerful boss of the Iowa Grange, Harold E. Pace, has also been collecting conservation payments for his 120-acre farm. The same is true of Charles Shuman, president of the Illinois agricultural association, who has been out in front in speaking against conservation handouts. Since 1951, however, a tenant farmer, Arthur Fresh, has been signing the applications for the Shuman farm.

Note—Farmers must make out complicated "intention sheets" and sign applications to collect their payments, so they can't claim the money was unsolicited.

Anemia Is Never a Symptom Which Can Be Safely Ignored

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

A.S. writes, "I have been told that I am badly anemic. Is this serious? What, if anything, can be done to remedy the situation? Does this make it desirable to contact my family physician?"

To answer the last question first, I believe that anyone with anemia should be under a physician's care. Often anemia is a symptom of a serious condition which should be treated promptly, and at other times it is something which can be remedied comparatively easily, often with great improvement in the feeling of well being of the person involved.

Anemia is the general term applied to below normal number of red blood cells or insufficient coloring matter or hemoglobin. Needless to say there are several kinds of anemia, many possible causes and great variation in the degree to which there is a deficiency of red cells or hemoglobin.

The most common form, however, is what is known as secondary anemia—that in which blood has been lost from the body and incompletely replaced.

A sudden hemorrhage, even a nose bleed, may bring on anemia. If it is not repeated, however, the blood is usually replaced rapidly. But if attacks of bleeding are repeated at frequent intervals a severe anemia may result.

The attack on this kind of anemia is not only to give iron preparations which enter into the hemoglobin, but even more important to identify and stop the attacks of hemorrhage.

In many cases it turns out to be quite a problem to track down the loss of blood, because it may be gradual and in small amounts rather than sudden and profuse.

But anemia can come from many things besides loss of blood. Some get anemic just because they do not get enough iron in their food. There is also a form of anemia known as primary or pernicious, the cause of which is not known.

This used to be a fatal disease, but thanks to work on dogs and observations on human beings this is no longer true. Liver has saved many lives of those with pernicious anemia. Now crystallized vitamin B-12 appears to be saving many more.

In secondary anemia the problem is to identify the cause and correct it. In severe cases blood transfusions can prove life saving.

With present knowledge of the blood it has been possible to restore many persons to health who might otherwise have become chronic invalids.

Experts Stumped

Folger Shakespearean Library in Washington gets a large number of inquiries from all over the country and on just about every subject Shakespeare ever mentioned, and some he did not.

It has remained for a school teacher from Putnam, Conn., however, to stump all the experts. After writing all the big research libraries and getting no answer, she dropped this one on the desk of Dr. Louis Wright, director of the Folger Library.

"What are the recipes for ambrosia and nectar, the food and drink of the Greek gods?"

"Is there any basis for the thought that ambrosia might be the royal jelly of bees?" she wrote. "I understand that both ambrosia and nectar were pre-alcoholic. I have found," she adds, that nectar was nine times sweeter than honey, and ambrosia could be heaped up."

Dr. Wright has had to admit he can't find the answer. However, he's bothered about ambrosia and nectar being pre-alcoholic.

From his delving into the classics, he has gained the distinct impression that the Greek gods frequently took a nip of something, and that Mt. Olympus saw some scandalous goin' on. "And anything nine times sweeter than honey," he suggests, "was bound to ferment."

Red Baiters

Polish people in the capital city of Warsaw have found various ways to show their defiance of Soviet Russian occupation authorities, according to reliable undercover reports made to the U. S. Free Europe Committee. The Poles have discovered that the Russians will put up with quite a lot of annoyance, because any complaints to the government would be an admission of Soviet unpopularity. So the Warsaw people have started playing tricks like these:

When a Russian asks for directions, he will be given an answer in such rapid Polish that he can't understand. A similar stunt is to put a Russian on a streetcar going in the wrong direction.

In shops and stores the Russians are given bad advice on their purchases. When a Russian walks past a group of Poles, they stop talking and stare at him. A favorite game is to point excitedly at a passing Soviet car, causing the driver to get out and look to see what's wrong.

Nobody Quit Yet

Undersecretary of Labor Arthur Larson has an answer for the frequently expressed belief of many people that social security programs in America are "creeping socialism." The usual charge is that social security makes people soft, destroys initiative, and reduces them to a slavish and dependent posture in relation to their government.

Speaking before the Chicago Economic Club, Secretary Larson declared: "No research project has ever turned up so much as one individual of whom it could be said, 'Look at this wretch! He was a fine, ambitious, independent fellow making $200 a month until he discovered that he was entitled to $85 a month at age 65 and $25 a week when he was unemployed. As soon as he discovered this, he lost all his drive and character and became a bum.'"

The World Today—

Ike Must Deal With Congress

(By James Marlow)

WASHINGTON — While still fresh in office last year President Eisenhower set up so many commissions to study and find answers for the problems facing him that critics jokingly called it "government by commission."

He is now learning that when a commission gets all through recommending, he still has to deal with Congress, and Congress can do as it pleases.

Last January a 17-man commission—headed by Clarence Randall, steel manufacturer—wound up a six-month study by making a list of recommendations on foreign economic policy.

Eisenhower had taken office at a time when it was clear this country was going to have to cut down on the amount of the aid it was shoveling out to other countries. Yet, once the aid was shut off, they'd have to fill the gap somehow to survive, and one of the ways was in more trade with this country. The Randall commission was set up to look for answers.

The perfect commission would be one in which all the members approached their problem with an open mind and wound up with an answer so obvious that all the members were in complete agreement.

The Randall commission didn't come close to the ideal group. Individual members had strong, perhaps lifelong, opinions on foreign trade, which apparently didn't change.

Among other things, the commission majority recommended that the reciprocal trade program be extended for another three years and some tariffs on foreign imports be lowered sharply over that period.

Under the Reciprocal Trade Act, the President can lower tariffs on certain foreign goods coming here if a foreign country lowers its tariffs on certain American goods sent there.

Two of Eisenhower's own Republicans on the Randall commission, key men in Congress, attacked the commission's report on specific details and termed the entire report "vague, indefinite and unsatisfactory."

These two were Rep. Daniel A. Reed of New York and Rep. Richard M. Simpson of Pennsylvania. Reed is chairman and Simpson is a member of the House Ways and Means Committee, which gets first crack at all tariff legislation.

Another Republican commission member—Sen. Eugene Millikin of Colorado, who as chairman of the Finance Committee is Reed's counterpart in the Senate—put in a long letter that was far more dissent than agreement.

Reed and Simpson took the position that tariff lowering, as recommended by the Randall commission, would hurt American business because of the competition of imported foreign goods and cause unemployment.

Eisenhower, following the majority recommendation, asked Congress to extend the Reciprocal Trade Act three years and let him cut tariffs 3 per cent in each of those three years.

But this request landed in the lap of the Reed-Simpson committee. Eisenhower backed up. He agreed to accept a one-year extension, without added authority to cut tariffs. He said he'd work for more improvements in foreign trade next year. The House passed the one-year extension. The Senate is expected to do so this week.

There is nothing unusual about this year-to-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act. The practice has been followed regularly in recent years in the face of much strong opposition in Congress against cutting tariffs.

In 1950, although more than 1,000 economists protested, President Hoover signed into law the Hawley-Smoot bill passed by the Republican-controlled Congress. It set up the highest tariffs in history against foreign imports.

Within two years 25 countries retaliated against this country with high tariffs of their own on American goods. By that time the depression, which had started in 1929, was going full speed.

When President Roosevelt came in, Secretary of State Cordell Hull persuaded the Democratic-controlled Congress in 1934, to pass the Reciprocal Trade Act in the hope of reviving world commerce. It's been on the books since.

XXVII

THE policeman stepped back and looked at Ricky's coupe with a critical eye. "Not fancy, but not too bad," he said. "It has possibilities."

Ricky watched the policeman carefully, wondering what he was talking about. "It hasn't been in the papers yet," the policeman said, standing by Ricky's window, "but around Thanksgiving the Allied Auto Council is going to sponsor a hot-rod show here. The idea is to build up the constructive side of the interest you kids have in hopping up cars. There'll be prizes for the best engines, the best design and all that. Interested?"

"Sounds right down my alley," Ricky said, as the idea began to burn inside him. "We want to get kids from all over the state to enter," the policeman added. "And from the people who come, we might have the beginning of a state hot-rod organization that would keep the sports angle and get rid of the recklessness."

"Where do I sign up?" The policeman laughed. "I'll take your name and see that you get on the list. One thing, though, in order to qualify for the show, you've got to have a clean record. Any moving violations between the time you sign and the show, and you're out."

"Don't worry about that," Ricky said earnestly. "If you knew what a big chance . . . You see, I'm going to go into business doing . . . I'll keep clean. And how!"

"Fine," the police officer said, reaching into the coupe to give Ricky a friendly pat on the shoulder. "We'll look for you." He turned away to go back to his patrol car.

Ricky caught a flash of moving yellow behind the policeman. It was Link's convertible, moving past slowly as Link looked toward Ricky with a mocking grin on his face. After Link came Chub . . . and Sherm! With his DTA sticker on the windshield.

Ricky sat back with his shoulders sagging as the policeman walked away. Suddenly he hit the steering wheel with his fist. "That dumb Sherm!"

"What's the matter, Ricky?" Sharon hadn't noticed the other Delville cars. "Just as we're getting somewhere. Sherm's up ahead with Link and Chub, and he's got a DTA sticker on his car. If he gets in any trouble, what will that make us look like?"

"Sherm doesn't mean any harm." "I'd like to warn him," Ricky said. "But I don't know where they're going, and I don't dare try to catch them."

"He'll be all right, Ricky." "I wouldn't put it past Link to figure out something, just so the DTA would get a bad name. He's got Sherm along for a purpose." Ricky started his car and drove slowly toward the drive-in movie, looking for his friends. He didn't have to look long. Several blocks on they came out of a side street, and fell in behind him. Ricky laughed, relieved.

"They're following us," Sharon said. "Yeah, I know Link's idea. He thinks he'll stick with us and spoil our date. But this is one time I'm glad to see him try."

When Ricky turned in at the drive-in, his friends were right behind him. He picked an open row, so they could come up on both sides of him.

Sherm looked shame-faced as Ricky opened the door of his car and slid in beside him. "Hi, Rick. We thought we'd keep you company."

"That's all right with me," Ricky said. He moved closer to Sherm, grabbing his big friend by the arm. "I just want to tell you one thing, Sherm. You're carrying the DTA sticker. The cops know about it. They're beginning to respect it, too. If you get in any trouble while you're carrying that sticker, I'll wring your big neck. It would mean the end of our club."

"I wouldn't do anything to hurt the club," Sherm protested. "Don't let Link suck you into anything."

"I gotta follow him if I'm with him, Ricky. You know that." "Then don't be with him. Be with me. Follow me."

"You've got a date." "You bet I have," Ricky said. "Right around Thanksgiving. And I aim to keep it. Now look."

"The movie's starting," Sherm said. "It's the cartoon. Shut up." Sherm was staring intently at the huge screen. Ricky slid his hand cautiously along the dash until his fingers closed around Sherm's keys. He pulled the ignition key and withdrew his hand.

"See you later, Sherm."

Ricky walked back to his car, slipping Sherm's keys in his pocket. There was more than one way to protect the good name of the DTA.

"I thought you were never coming back," Sharon said. "I had to straighten Sherm out."

Ricky looked from left to right. Chub was parked close on his left, Link to the right. Instead of watching the screen they were staring into the coupe.

"Picture's up ahead," Ricky said to Chub. Chub grinned. "Might be a better show in your coupe."

Ricky slumped behind his wheel. "I'm getting tired of those guys. For two cents I'd . . ."

"Don't let them get your goat," Sharon said. "They'll get tired of being pests if we ignore them."

"Next thing I put on this coupe will be Venetian blinds," Ricky said savagely. "Watch the movie," Sharon said soothingly. "That's what we came for."

KANSAS CITY — A Missouri family is on a vacation trip to Florida, unaware that a member is in danger of rabies infection. All police in Southeastern states have been alerted to stop Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zellner and tell them that their son Russell, 11, should take antirabies serum immediately.

The boy was bitten by a skunk at their home in Blue Springs, Friday. The family started to Florida early Saturday. Later the highway patrol said the skunk died with symptoms of rabies.

Six Convicts Flee Prison, Are Caught

LANSING, Kan. — Six convicts fled from the Kansas State Prison yesterday.

A veteran guard was killed, and one of the convicts was wounded in bursts of gunfire before the group surrendered in the administration building.

The convicts were armed with three crude .22 pistols and six knives, all made within the prison.

The six men rushed into the visitors' room, where about 25 visitors were talking with prisoners. They seized the hostages, including two children, and rushed to the administration building.

Fred Kenaga, 58, an unarmed guard supervisor with 25 years of service, encountered the group at the administration building door and was shot to death.

Inside a vestibule the convicts were stopped by two gates. Threatening the hostages, they yelled for gatekeeper Andy Hollinshead to open the gates. He refused and they fired at him.

Warden Charles Edmondson rushed into the corridor and drew fire from the convicts as the hostages screamed hysterically.

The warden got a rifle and stepped into the corridor again as armed guards approached the convicts from the yard in the rear.

"I knew we were going to have a showdown, and that we were going to have it right here," the warden said.

"I was interested in getting the hostages out, as well as about 20 other visitors in the visitors' hall," he said, "but you just can't run a prison by opening the gates, because of pressure from inside."

The convicts started shooting but surrendered when the guards opened fire.

The wounded convicts were Lawton Ray Collins, 24, Kansas City, shot in the hip, and William Henry Parker, 24, Gage, Okla., wounded in a finger. The other convicts were Donald E. Davis, 27, Sturgis, Mich.; Emmett May, 34, Topeka, Kan.; Robert Leroy Knight, 24, Picher, Okla.; and James Tarr, 22, Ponca City, Okla.

Mrs. Frankie Scroggins, 26, Kansas City, was wounded in the shoulder.

Warden Edmondson said the six convicts would be charged with first-degree murder for Kenaga's slaying.

Cohn Expecting Staff Members To Take New Jobs

NEW YORK — Roy M. Cohn, chief counsel for the Senate subcommittee on investigations, said last night he expected some members of the committee staff to resign to accept "attractive business offers."

"I have no plans to resign," Cohn said in an interview following a television appearance on the Walter Winchell program.

"But some members of the staff," he added, "have received attractive business offers and I expect some of them will resign."

Cohn said he would not fight dismissal if a majority of the committee votes that he should not remain on the staff.

During the broadcast Cohn said, "The great support of the American people has been enough to make me want to stay on. But I will continue fighting communism whether on or off the committee."

Cohn said no one on the staff has "ever been denied any type of security clearance by anyone."

He also said the committee had received "a great deal of information about communists placed on supposedly respectable newspapers."

When questioned after the program, Cohn said one result of the 36-day hearings was to "show the public how slanted the news coverage of the hearings was."

He also said the chief result of the hearings had been to "stop the committee's efforts to expose Communist infiltration."

Reported Bandit Trio Leader Is 'Most Wanted'

WASHINGTON — The reported leader of a bandit trio who murdered an Iowa farmer during a robbery Feb. 22 was added today to the FBI's list of "10 most wanted men."

He is David Daniel Keegan, a fugitive wanted in the slaying of William Edward, 51, in his farmhouse near Mondamin, Iowa.

Federal charges against Keegan are unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for murder and transporting loot from the robbery, which totaled $9,000 in currency and $8,300 in savings bonds, from Iowa to South Dakota. A state murder warrant is outstanding against Keegan in Logan, Iowa.

Keegan was described as of medium build, 5 feet 11 and weighing 159. He has wavy black hair and blue eyes which he reportedly rolls while talking.

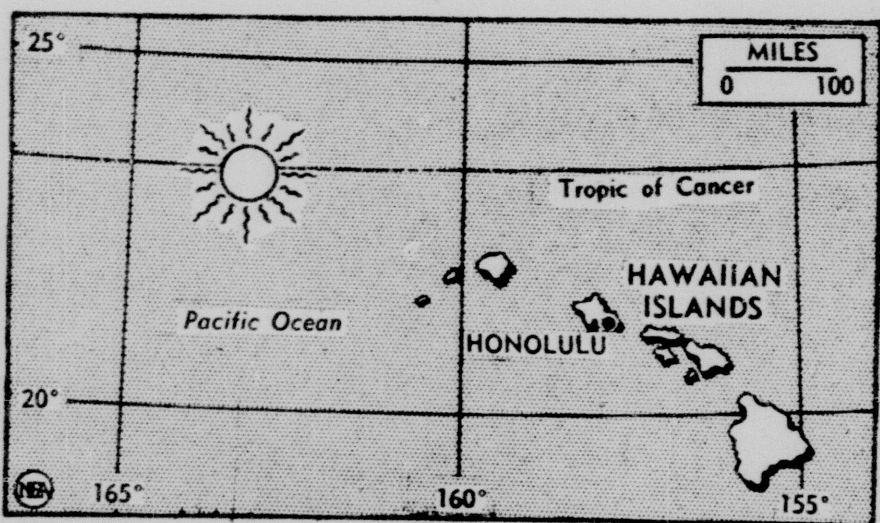

The FBI said a safe stolen from Edwards' home was found in a ditch in North Sioux City, S. D., the day after the robbery. Keegan's alleged accomplices were arrested a day later.

IT'S SUMMER!—Summer makes its debut in Sedalia at 7:55 p. m. today. It's official when the sun reaches its farthest apparent distance north of the equator. This year, at that time, the sun will be directly overhead for an observer at 163 degrees, 20.9 minutes West longitude and 23 degrees, 26.8 minutes North latitude. As may show, that a point in the Pacific Ocean, north-west of Honolulu.

Bare Male Knees Among Items Ushering In Summer Today

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — The sun pushes as far north today as it can, and for many Americans this may well usher in what will come to be known as the summer of decision.

Problems galore will be forced upon you — world-shaking or just plain shaking. They range from the male form un-divine and the new rag-bag hairdo for women to the question of how many resort-bound autos can squeeze into one highway intersection.

Already city streets are seeking the first bare male knees of the torrid season. Clothing men think this will be the summer to decide two of the burning issues of the day. Will walking shorts emerge from the suburbs to become standard summer wear? Will long hose or the ankle sock be the American male's final choice?

In the industry some also see this as the summer of decision for the fibers made by man. Use of synthetics in hot weather clothing may continue to increase at the impressive rate of former years. Or it may have about reached its peak of general acceptance.

Another vital question: the trend toward casualness in dress. Some refer to it bitterly as the trend toward sloppiness. How much more informal can the grown male and the adolescent female get? Or, to put it the way the subjects of the inquiry would, whose business is it but theirs?

What's worrying merchants now is this: some men may decide to sweat out the Asiatic crisis in last year's suit. But there's a good chance others will go whole hog for an entirely new summer wardrobe — meaning, "if the roof's going to fall in anyway, why not splurge?"

The first vacationers, meanwhile, are taking to the country-side.

By the Fourth of July, resort owners should have an inkling on this decision: Will this summer be their biggest? Has this winter's business recession thinned the ranks of the trippers? Has it made them more penny conscious?

To get down to the facts of life, will Papa buy Mama a new summer formal and take her to a swank resort for a fling? Or will they stay home and paint the house themselves?

The first benefits one set of businessmen. The second moves stocks of others off shelves and out of factories.

Resort owners say reservations and traffic in the first June weeks indicate a full summer of play ahead. Sellers of cars and gasoline and of all the trappings of sport and recreation are counting on it too.

Heir's Death Starts Probe For a Cause

CHICAGO — Authorities today intensified their investigation of the mysterious death of the 20-year-old heir to a million dollars after being told the young man revised his will recently to make his fiancée principal beneficiary and had expressed doubt he would live to come into his own inheritance.

Montgomery Zard Thorne was found dead in his studio apartment Saturday. Coroner Walter E. McCarron said there were four needle marks on his arms but no evidence he was a user of narcotics.

The coroner ordered an analysis of vital organs.

He said he also has sent investigators to Birmingham, Mich., to interview the 25-year-old daughter of a prominent Birmingham family. He said the girl, art student, occupied an apartment adjacent Thorne's until Friday. McCarron did not name her.

Jay Stough, who said he had been young Thorne's lawyer for some time, told Detective Capt. Harry Penzin that Thorne less than 10 days ago changed his will to make Miss Maureen Ragen, 18, chief beneficiary and executor.

Penzin quoted Stough as saying Thorne, grandson of a former president of Montgomery Ward & Co., "was afraid he would never live to collect his inheritance. He asked me to assure that there would be a very thorough investigation . . . if he died."

Stough said Thorne would have been receiving $1,000 a month in income from the estate of his father, Gordon C. Thorne, after his 21st birthday in October. The father's will provided the income would jump to $3,000 a month at age 30 and the son would be allotted the principal of his inheritance — estimated at a million dollars — at age 35, the lawyer said.

Miss Ragen, to whom young Thorne's new will left half of his estate, is the granddaughter of the late James M. Ragen, racing news service publisher who was shot down by gang assassins in 1946.

The new will directs the remainder of young Thorne's estate be divided among relatives, including one eighth to his mother, Mrs. Marion Thorne.

Mrs. Thorne, fourth wife of Gordon C. Thorne, whom he married in 1929 after she, a nurse, was sole beneficiary under the son's original will, Stough said. That will, the lawyer said, was drawn soon after the boy's 18th birthday.

Young Thorne, a freshman at Fordham University, and Miss Ragen had been planning to be married in December, Stough said.

CAA Will Hear Air Route Pleas Of Four States

WASHINGTON — The Civil Aeronautics Board has set for oral argument tomorrow an examiners' recommendation that Central Airlines, Inc., be granted several air routes in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Missouri.

Delegation from the four states will be on hand to discuss the recommendations of Examiner Barren Fredericks.

Fredericks, after hearings, found that Central Airlines should be authorized for these routes: Tulsa to Little Rock via Muskogee, Fayetteville, Fort Smith and Hot Springs; Muskogee to Ft. Smith; Muskogee to Kansas City via Joplin; and Fort Worth to Kansas City via Dallas, Paris, Fort Smith, Fayetteville and Joplin.

Fredericks also found that Braniff Airways, Inc., should suspend its air service to Muskogee, on its routes Nos. 9 and 26, as it requested in event another carrier was authorized to serve Muskogee.

He turned down the application of Trans-Texas Airways for authority to serve the area involved.

An Arkansas delegation, headed by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) and Reps. Harris and Trimble, Arkansas Democrats, is due to appear at the hearings and urge the board to provide air service for northwestern Arkansas.

The group also is to include Mayor H. R. Hestand of Fort Smith, R. C. Crisp and Lem Bryan of Fort Smith; Mayor Roy Scott of Fayetteville and W. C. Whitfield, Wes Gordon and Clifton Wade, all of Fayetteville.

Reps. Lucas (D-Texas) and Edmondson (D-Okla.) also will be among those who will discuss the case.

Half a dozen other cities and several other air lines will have representatives on hand for the oral arguments.

Flood Waters Raging Over Part of Iowa

DES MOINES — Floods hit more areas in Iowa today. Raging waters claimed one life and caused hundreds of fresh evacuations.

A flash flood in this capital city drove scores of families from their homes and closed U.S. Route 6 through Des Moines.

The torrential rains in Iowa and northeastern Nebraska were part of a belt of thunderstorms running eastward through northern Illinois, southern Wisconsin and lower Michigan.

Walthill and Winnebago, Neb., small towns south of Sioux City, Iowa, were flooded. Flood water in Nebraska blocked highways 275 near Norfolk and 35 at Winside and was threatening the town of Pender. Two tornadoes were sighted in Nebraska but no damage was reported.

The storms brought only limited relief from the stagnant, sultry heat that in Chicago, on this first day of summer, approached a record 11 straight days of 90 degrees or higher. Similar readings or higher were the rule yesterday from the storm area southward to the Gulf, and were expected again today.

The western Dakotas, eastern Wyoming and northwest Nebraska were a bit cooler, but to the west and south it was even hotter. Sunday readings of 110 were common in the desert Southwest, and Yuma, Ariz., had 115.

Most of northern Iowa was polka-dotted with small lakes created by torrential rains. Crop experts said damage would run into millions. Highway and rail traffic were interrupted at many points.

The north-central Iowa city of Fort Dodge was among the new flood emergency points. Sioux City, in western Iowa, and Mason City, near the northern border, rode out flood crests and now face new crises.

Today was the beginning of the second week of daily outbursts of thunderstorms, occasional hail and high winds ranging up to tornado proportions. Rains have ranged to 10 inches and downpours of 5 inches or more have been common throughout the northwest and northern sectors.

Alfred Anderson, 18-year-old farm youth, disappeared while attempting to swim his horse across the raging Iowa River to reach some stranded cattle.

Developments included:

Des Moines — Police boats evacuated more than 50 families along Four-Mile Creek after a 5-inch rain fell near Ankeny, just north of Des Moines.

Sioux City — A 21-foot crest passed at midday yesterday on the Floyd River after more than 500 families had left their suburban homes as a precaution. A new peril rose after 3½ inches of rain fell in five hours last night. More hard rains fell in the Floyd Valley above Sioux City.

Mason City — A 4-inch downpour in four hours last night cut off all highways into Mason City and caused new flooding.

Fort Dodge — The Red Cross used all available trucks yesterday to evacuate 30 homes when the Des Moines River rose swiftly to flood stage.

In Western Iowa, between Sioux City and Council Bluffs, thousands of acres were inundated when dikes broke near Turin and Kennebuc.

Young Hobo Is Trapped Inside Railroad Car For 8 Foodless Days

CASA GRANDE, Ariz., (P)—Food and water are on Milford Alvin Fitzgerald's mind today after being trapped in a sealed railroad car for eight days.

Dehydrated from the long ordeal, the 28-year-old man was freed last night after a hobo reported hearing a noise.

Fitzgerald, at first unable to talk, was hospitalized in "poor, but improving" condition. After several hours he began to mumble incoherently and finally, he said: "I'm awful hungry."

Nurses at Pinal County General Hospital at Florence fed him chipped ice at first, later soft foods.

Southern Pacific Railroad officials said Fitzgerald, of Seattle and Spring Valley, Calif., apparently had climbed into the car loaded with lumber in Washington State a week ago Saturday.

Boy, 6, Starts Fire That Injures Five; $100,000 Damages

The boy, caught running away from the scene, was questioned by police and released in custody of his parents.

France's Tottering Empire Spotted On Two Sides of World

Editor's Note—The tides of opposition beat fiercely against the empire France built on two sides of the world. Indochina is all but adrift, and North Africa is shaken by the waves of nationalism. William L. Ryan has surveyed the prospects in both areas, as well as in France itself. This is the first of a series of articles this week in which he portrays the tottering empire—and how it weakened.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

A Foreign News Analyst

TUNIS (P)—Nguyen Nguc toils in an Indochina rice field.

Mohammed Aly herds goats in Morocco.

Political turmoil swirls about these peasants at outposts of the French empire, but it means nothing to them. They are illiterate and care little who rules them. They want to be left in peace to eke out a living the way their forefathers did for ages before them.

They are in the vast majority. In contrast is an educated crust—men like Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia, Mohammed Khouane of Algeria and Allal el Fassi of Morocco. These are nationalist leaders dedicated to driving French political domination out of North Africa. It is ironic that France educated them.

Even Ho Chi Minh, Communist leader who seized the nationalist movement in Indochina, owes much of his education to France.

Once native leaders looked upon the French as miracle workers, France was strong and promised them a better way of life. The destruction of French grandeur in the wake of two world wars produced cracks in the French empire that are still widening. Indochina is slipping away in the East. A new Indochina-like problem, this one in North Africa, is brewing.

In today's world of swift communications, propaganda, subversion and rising nationalism, the methods of half a century ago, when France was at the height of her power, do not suffice.

"Force no longer frightens us," a North African nationalist told me. "The French mass their troops and play the 'Marseillaise' to impress us with their glory and their power, but we are no longer impressed."

The misfortune of France is this: It displays less and less ability to cope with the complex problem of defending its important position in today's world.

The misfortune of the people of the French Union who aspire to national independence is this: they are subject to being used by outside forces. No matter how just their aspirations sound to sympathetic ears in the West, their future is bound up with the struggle of Western civilization for survival. Political instability in areas important to defense is an expensive luxury from the West's point of view.

France's splintered politics, the merous, were not enough. It was impossible to bomb an ideology.

In Indochina, the French retreated into their Maginot Line idea, defending what they thought they could and fighting against a steady attrition of harassment. When the enemy decided to come into the France lost a great battle at Dien Bien Phu. The tide was running against her. Politically, she had nothing to fill the vacuum. The only native organization was Communist-controlled. France had permitted no effective political organization to counter it.

Today a large section of French opinion hopes to salvage the rest of the union. Businessmen quietly withdrew from Indochina, first setting themselves up in North Africa and then, seeing there too the seeds of trouble, shifting to the more solidly held section of the empire in west Africa.

Once again a pattern takes shape. In Tunisia a "liberation army" already is in being. One cannot say for sure how nationalist it is, just how much foreign influence is in it. But it requires only a small group of disciplined opportunists to change a nationalist movement into a Communist one. The world learned that in Indochina.

LONDON (P)—Peiping radio says China's population is more than 600 million. The figure includes the island of Formosa, controlled by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist forces.

Foreign Aid Budge Comes Up This Week

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower's 3½-billion-dollar foreign aid budget for next year—a prime target for economy advocates—gets its first test this week.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee starts today to decide the actual amounts it will propose authorizing for the year beginning July 1. The final bill may be ready for House action later in the week.

The committee, meeting behind closed doors, already has partly remodeled the program to replace some outright economic gifts with loans and the use of surplus food.

Efforts to cut the total are anticipated, both in final committee sessions and on the House floor. The measure would set a ceiling on the aid program, with the actual appropriations voted later, perhaps after further trimming.

The administration requested $3,477,000,000. Of this $1,580,000,000 is earmarked for global military assistance, with the remainder split between economic aid, technical (Point Four) assistance and other programs.

The largest single amount—800 million dollars—is budgeted for special military assistance to Indochina.

The administration has requested authority to use this sum anywhere else in Asia, in case Indochina falls or the war ends.

The committee already has adopted an amendment to limit the use of 500 million dollars in economic funds to ship surplus agricultural products abroad, to replace direct dollar aid.

In addition, the committee is discussing proposals to earmark another 300 or 400 million dollars for loans and guarantees, instead of using them for outright grants.

Knifing Is Rewarded With Dented Scalp

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (P)—Asked whether he wished to file charges against the man who knifed him, the victim replied, "Let justice take its course."

An hour later a second man was at the hospital for treatment of a head laceration. Asked whether he knew his attacker, he promptly named the first man.

"Justice has taken its course," mused the policeman, "but I think it got a shove."

No charges were filed.

Red Air Show Displays No New Type of Plane

MOSCOW (P)—The Soviet Air Force staged a giant air show yesterday but the 667 planes that took part included no new types. Even the four-jet intercontinental bomber flown over Red Square on May Day was absent from the display.

A quarter of a million Russians, headed by Premier Georgi Malenkov and Communist party secretary Nikita Khrushchev watched the show at Moscow's Tushino field. The aircraft ranged from four tiny radio-controlled gliders to 162 two-jet bombers.

Bangkok Radio Silence Puzzles Free World

SINGAPORE (P)—Dispatches from Saigon today said radio communication between the Vietnamese capital and Bangkok had been cut off since yesterday, but Singapore's telegraphic traffic with the Thai capital was reported normal.

In London, Cable & Wireless, Ltd. also reported it had received normal traffic from Bangkok today.

Sources at the Saigon post office could give no explanation for the radio break. It aroused considerable speculation there since in recent years such radio silence has several times been the first warning that a coup d'etat had overthrown the Thai government.

THE HIGH-LEVEL SQUINT

thinks he knows the forest—but has never met a tree

The SQUINT is an advertising executive who prefers to float above the rough-and-tumble of selling.

He thinks he gets the "big view" by closing his eyes to details... and thinks of the nation as a one-color map—where towns and people and needs are gratifyingly all alike.

And he advertises accordingly.

Fortunately the SQUINT is a rare creature. Most ad-men know that sales problems vary.

They know, for example that one town may buy twice as many girdles or puddings or toothpaste as another town even though incomes are equal—because regions are different, tastes are different, and people are different!

So most advertisers concentrate on areas that pay—instead of spending loftily in across-the-board campaigns.

Their "national" advertising starts at the local level—in newspapers!

All business is local...and so are all newspapers!

Yesterday's Games—Giants Win After Bonus Rule Is Banned

By JACK HAND
AP Sports Writer

Warren Giles' embargo on the $100 home run bonus came just in time to save Leo Durocher a lot of money.

Yesterday two Giant pinch hitters, Bobby Hofman and Dusty Rhodes, tied a record by hitting pinch homers in the same inning of New York's 7-6 victory over St. Louis. Wes Westrum also homered in the sixth inning and Al Dark hit one earlier.

If Giles hadn't sounded a warning, Leo probably still would be handing out $100 bills as he did last week to Bill Taylor and Hank Thompson.

The Giant homers yesterday routed the Cardinals and hung a defeat on Cot Deal. But the New York's lead was sliced to one half game by Brooklyn's double victory.

The Dodgers again fell back on relief pitching as they knocked off Chicago twice, 6-4 and 6-3. Clem Labine bailed out the first game and Bob Milliken and Ben Wade held the fort in the second after Billy Loos left.

For the first time since Sept. 6, 1953, Pittsburgh actually won a double-header, downing Milwaukee 2-1 in 10 innings when Lew Burdette hit Curt Roberts with a pitched ball with the bases loaded. Gair Allie's three-run homer gave the Pirates the second game, 6-3 over Bob Buhl.

Cincinnati bumped off Philadelphia twice, 4-3 and 15-6, chasing their old teammate, Herm Wehmeier. The Redlegs scored nine runs in the first inning of the second game.

Cleveland hiked its American League lead to four games by beating their old Boston spartan around the head 3-1 and 9-2 while New York and Chicago were dividing two. Bobby Feller's five-hitter and Art Houtteman's 10-hitter both had home run help from Al Smith.

The Yankees managed 20 hits, including home runs by Bill Skowron, Gil McDougald, Mickey Mantle and Joe Collins in thumping Chicago 16-4, the first game.

Then Bob Keegan squared matters for the White Sox 7-3, becoming the first American League pitcher to win 10 games this year. The second game was held to eight innings by darkness. Sherm Lollar's two-run homer in the seventh was the big blow.

Baltimore's losing streak stretched to eight straight when Washington's Connie Marrero and Dean Stone pitched the Senators to a double victory, 7-1 and 7-2.

A Philadelphia-at-Detroit double-header was rained out.

Baltimore Fans Boo Orioles' Manager; Team Loses 2 Games

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore fans have gotten around today to booing their losing Orioles steadily, but they're still paying to do it.

There were 17,149 of them who bought tickets yesterday to put the Orioles 4,732 over the half-million admission mark in 26 dates.

That's a healthy average of 19,412 and a total higher than the St. Louis Browns and Philadelphia Athletics drew all last season.

But there was a decided change in the fans' tone yesterday. When they moved to Baltimore from St. Louis the players were cheered at every turn regardless of what they did. Balls and strikes were greeted with roars reserved for home runs in other big league cities.

Opposing teams, in turn, were booed soundly.

It was different yesterday. Fans started booing manager Jimmy Dykes when he made his appearance to give the umpires his starting lineup. It went on and grew as the team lost a double-header 7-1 and 7-2 to, of all teams, the neighboring Washington Senators.

For a change, even the Senator pitcher was given a hand when he came to bat in the late innings.

The Orioles have now lost eight in a row.

The Hamms Beer Softball team suffered a defeat Sunday night as the Air Force Medics of the Sedalia Air Force Base downed them 12-7.

The highlights of the game were home runs by both teams. The winning pitcher for the SAFB was Estell.

Perez-Basset Bout Winner to Oppose Saddler for Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Sandy Saddler's next title opponent probably will emerge from Friday's Madison Square Garden bout between the stuck to feathers, knock-out featherweights Lulu Perez of Brooklyn and Percy Basset of Philadelphia. The New York State Athletic Commission will recognize the winner as the outstanding challenger.

Perez whipped Davey Gallardo and knocked out Willie Pep and Mickey Mars in his three 1954 starts. Basset did fine as long as he stuck to feathers, knocking out three 126-pounders in Europe, but lost to lightweights Cisco Andrade and Orlando Zulueta.

It's a network radio (ABC) and television (NBC) show.

The Friday show closes the regular season at the Garden although there will be periodic Wednesday shows during the summer.

The Monday rivalry continues with Frankie Ryff, young New York lightweight prospect, boxing Brian Kelly of Niagara Falls, Ont. at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway (ABC-TV) and Pedro Gonzales of Rankin, Pa. Meeting Italo Scorticini of Italy at St. Nicholas Arena (Dumont).

Ray Arcel's Saturday night series (ABC-TV) again features Carmine Basilio from Syracuse, N. Y., against Al Andrews of Superior, Wis., who recently went 10 rounds to a draw with Joe Miceli.

Paulie Andrews of Buffalo, N. Y., and Danny Nardicio of Tampa, Fla., respectively No. 7 and No. 8 in the light heavy class, do their stuff Wednesday from the Chicago Stadium (CBS-TV).

Richards Sets A New Mark; LAAC Wins

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Rev. Bob Richards' last-minute pole vault record wrote an exciting finish to the National AAU Track and Field Championships. New meet records were set in 13 of the 21 events to make the 66th running one of the best.

Richards, competing for the winning Los Angeles Athletic Club, cleared the bar at 15 feet 3 1/2 inches on his final attempt Saturday night while a taxi waited on the cinder track. He had 30 minutes to catch a midnight plane for Long Beach, Calif., where he was to deliver a sermon and perform two marriage ceremonies yesterday.

Most of the crowd of 7,500 persons stayed long after the last running event to cheer his effort.

His record, an inch above the mark set in 1942 by Californian Cornelius Warmerdam, was the ninth in 12 events Saturday. Five marks were surpassed Friday and one of those, the 880-yard run, was bettered again in the finals Saturday by Mal Whitfield of Los Angeles AC, who ran 1:50.8.

The two-time Olympic 800-meter champion defeated young Bill Tidwell, Fort Ord, Calif., by five yards, Hen Cryer of Fort Sam Houston, Tex., whose 1:51.3 in the prelims bettered the record, was seventh.

The change from meters to yards in 1953 accounts somewhat for the record spree of the last two years. All races were run at metric distances in 1952 through 1952. Los Angeles AC had 124 points, New York AC, seeking his third straight title, 107, New York Phoenix Club 43, and San Francisco Olympic Club 35. Scoring was on a 10-8-6-4-2-1 basis.

Cardinals Lose 7-6 To Giants Sunday; Minus Clutch Hits

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The lack of a base hit at the proper time marred the Cardinals' Sunday victory over the Giants 7-6. The Cardinals lost 17 base runners stranded—just one under the major league record—in dropping a 7-6 decision to the Giants in New York.

The gopher ball, that old bogey of the 1954 Cardinals, reared its ugly head again. Bobby Hofman, Wes Westrum and Dusty Rhodes hit consecutive home runs for the Giants in the sixth inning.

Art Houtteman hit his third home run in three days featured a four-run Cardinal uprising in the sixth before the Giants put on their display of power.

The Redbirds had 12 hits and 11 bases on balls and put two on base by virtue of Giant errors in the 3-hour and 16-minute struggle—but the hits were missing in the clutch.

They left the bases loaded three times, and four times 2 Cardinal base runners were stranded.

Stanford University Defends Its NCAA Golf Title Today

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Stanford University, with three-fourths of its 1953 team on hand, began defense of its national collegiate golf championship today on a soggy Brae Burn Country Club course.

A field of 147 players teed off in the first of two 18-hole qualifying rounds in the 57th annual NCAA tournament.

The team title will be determined on the basis of 36 holes of qualifying play. Wednesday, the 64 qualifiers begin match play to determine the individual title.

Despite a steady rain, the 6,840-yard, par 72 course offered little trouble to several of the individual favorites yesterday as an east team defeated a west squad, 612 to 512, in 12 best ball matches.

Earl Moeller, the defending individual champion from Oklahoma A&M had a 74 but teamed with Joe Ferguson of North Texas State to defeat Eddie Merrins, Louisiana State, and Bob Benning, Purdue, 2 and 1.

In 22 years of competition Penn Hall's swimming team has been undefeated 11 times.

Leading the girls for the second year were Evelyn Kawamoto of Honolulu, 1952 Olympic record breaker; Betty Anne Montgomery of Philadelphia, junior women's National AAU breast stroke title holder; and Sheila Conway of New York, captain of the squad.

Meeting stiff opposition, Penn Hall's aquatic teams competed in six meets this year, winning five and tying one.

Their over-all record for 22 years is 38 wins, 13 losses and two ties. Their foes have included University of Illinois, N.Y.U., Swarthmore College, Drexel Institute, Notre Dame Prep, Hunter College, Savage School, and the Ohio Women's Swimming Association.

Sports Roundup—Art Larsen, U. S. Tennis Star, Has Upset Many Australians

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—That prize pixie of the tennis courts Art Larsen has taken pen in hand and stirred up our Australian friends to the point where anything might happen and probably will. Official protests promise to be the least of it. Tempers are becoming ragged.

Larsen, who is playing in the Wimbledon Championships starting today, set the pot boiling when he wrote for a recent issue of "World Tennis" an article which he meant to be humorous entitled "I Played Australia." A copy seems to have reached Australia, and judging by the contents of a cable we have received, the Aussies do not think Larsen is funny.

The Victoria Lawn Tennis Assn. at Melbourne has protested that Art's literary flight of fancy has "damaged Australian prestige." The president of that body, U. S. Pitt, has complained to the U. S. Association that our former national champion's charges are "entirely incorrect" and "Fantastic." As it happens, he's right on both counts.

Referring to Larsen's tour of Australia a few years ago—a tour which the Aussies swore at the time would never be repeated—Pitt has this to say:

"Larsen was treated with every consideration and efforts were made to soothe him. Throughout the tour the authorities had been too lenient with Larsen and the crowd was very irritated with his behavior. The criticism was mild and much less than he deserved."

One is likely to wonder what in the world our tennis hero could have written to bring down such honest wrath, and by the greatest good luck there is a copy of the offending article at hand. It's dynamite if we ever saw the explosive. Examples:

"On the day of the finals (Larsen writes) there was a 70-mile-an-hour wind. When I stepped on the court to begin, a huge box came flying through the air and knocked me down. I had to hit every ball twice because the wind kept throwing the ball back at me."

One can readily see, we feel, why the Aussies do not think Larsen is funny. Why they are sore is not quite so clear. Again he recalls a high spot of the tour, which apparently had many:

"Then something happened—I don't remember what—and they began to boo me for no reason. They did it so brutally and consistently that I finally blew my cork. I picked up my rackets and stalked off the court amidst a shower of beer bottles and a Metropolitan Opera chorus of boos."

From the information we have, the Aussies are particularly upset over this passage, and with some reason. Our own suspicion is that Art is exaggerating. Australian beer comes in quart bottles, which are very unwieldy for throwing purposes, and are not sold at tennis matches.

'54 Baseball Season Off With Oddities

NEW YORK, N. Y. (AP)—With private detectives shadowing ball players and an umpire throwing out a leading slugger's bat because it contained several small nails, the baseball season is well on its way toward zany heights.

Birdie Tebbetts came up with a dilly the other day at the Polo Grounds when his Cincinnati Reds were playing the New York Giants.

With Jimmy Greengrass on third and Wally Post on second and two out, the Giants elected to give batter Ed Bailey, a left-handed batter, an intentional pass.

Standing wide of the plate to catch the fourth ball, catcher Ray Katt was amazed to see Greengrass heading full speed for the plate in an attempted steal. The runner was out by plenty, prompting the second guessers to give Birdie a bad time.

The official scorers have been having a workout, too. Over in Brooklyn, Stan Musial lost a possible base hit on an unusual ruling. With men on first and second and one out, Musial grounded to first baseman Gil Hodges. Hodges hesitated, looked toward second as though to try a force play and finally tossed to pitcher Johnny Podres covering first. He was too late and Musial was safe. The official scorer ruled a fielder's choice and no base hit.

Another scoring problem arose at Yankee Stadium when Boston was playing the Yankees. Jackie Jensen was on second base when George Kell hit a screamer toward third base. Jensen

Bob Thomas In Hollywood--

Audie Murphy to Portray Self In His 'To Hell and Back'

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How does a modest man enact his own amazing life on the screen?
Actor Audie Murphy is not sure he'll live through it, but he is under-taking to portray the soldier
Audie Murphy in "To Hell and Back." The autobiography is being filmed with an expensive production by Murphy's home studio,
Universal-International.
Murphy's record as a soldier in World War II is unparalleled. He won 23 decorations, including the big one — the Medal of Honor.
While he was killing 240 German soldiers, a mortar shell burst at his feet, he was perforated by an artillery shell blast and shot in the hip by a sniper's bullet.
The former sharpshooter boy from Kingston, Tex., is modest about his war achievements. Director Jess Hibbs told me he and producer Aaron Rosenberg have met opposition on some points in the script.
"I think it's kind of silly to show me getting the medals at the end of the picture," Murphy reasoned.
"Those who know I got the medals will understand. And for the others the events will speak for themselves."
Audie remarked that the rest of the script is shaping up well, but he'll take a stand on that matter.
I asked him what would happen

Guatemala President Declares Martial Law Through Nation

Red Backed Rule Battles An Invasion

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman of Guatemala proclaimed martial law throughout his invaded country today as his Communist-backed government mobilized for a showdown battle with anti-Red rebels. Insurgent leaders claimed their forces were pushing ahead in a three-pronged drive aimed at key rail and road communications in the southern part of the country. The martial law decree was announced late last night after a government appeal for all private cars to be turned in for use in moving troops. Reports from Guatemala said the decisive phase of the battle for that neighboring Central American nation may come within 48 hours.

Associated Press Correspondent Jack Rutledge, in Guatemala City, quoted Guatemalan army officers as saying no field action had yet been fought. They added, however, that a battle could not be delayed much longer.

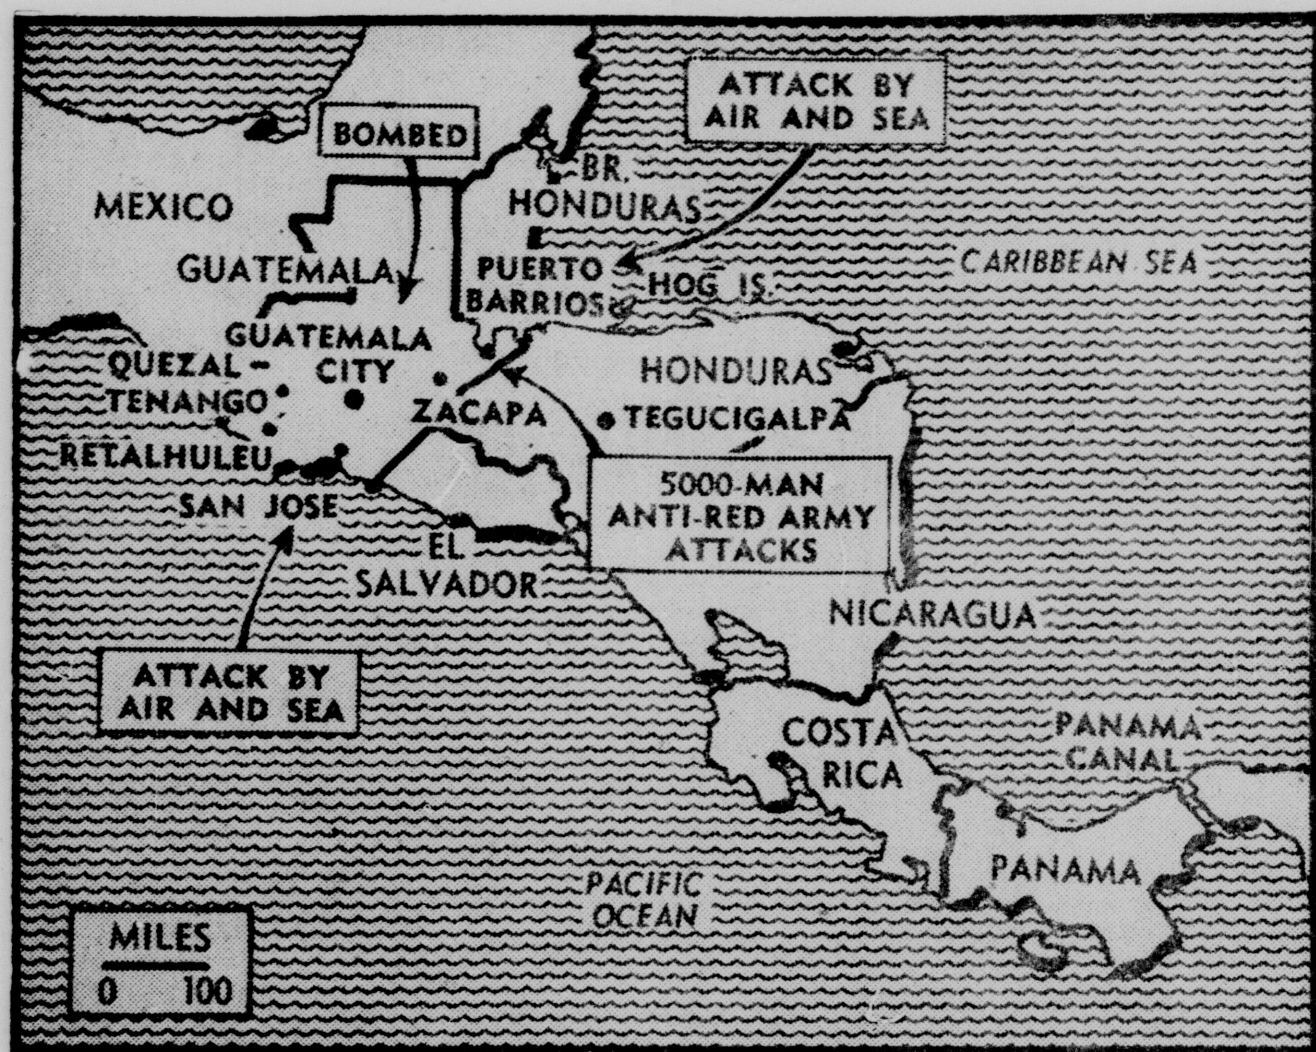

The U.S. Embassy in Guatemala City announced it is making plans to evacuate wives and children of U.S. citizens. With a wave of anti-U.S. feeling sweeping the city, the embassy reportedly feared violence might break out against North Americans. There are about 1,200 U.S. citizens in Guatemala. Part of the rebel force was reported striking toward the Pan-American Highway, near the Salvadoran border. This is a two-headed drive from Nueva Ocotepique, Honduras, toward the town of Jutiapa.

Another invading column reportedly was moving in from Macuelizo, Honduras, about 20 miles west of Puerto Barrios, Guatemala's chief Caribbean port. The third was reported toward Zacapa, midway on the vital rail line between Puerto Barrios and Guatemala City. Rebel sources said their planes also are dropping arms in western Guatemala, where uprisings against the government have been reported.

President Arbenz reportedly has taken personal charge of defense strategy. It was speculated the taking-over of private automobiles could mean he plans to emulate the famous "taxicab army" which France rushed up to defend the Marne River during World War I. There was no immediate reaction to diplomatic developments at the United Nations and elsewhere on Guatemala's charge it is the victim of aggression.

At an extraordinary Sunday session, the U.N. Security Council unanimously called for a cease-fire in Guatemala. The resolution, proposed by France, also urged all U.N. members not to aid either side in the struggle. The move came after the Soviet Union vetoed a U.S.-supported bid to turn the complaint over to the Organization of American States and demanded the council itself act on the case.

"ARMY OF LIBERATION" INVADES GUATEMALA—Newsmap indicates where an anti-Communist "Army of Liberation" under command of exiled Col. Carlos Castillo Armas made its first strikes in Guatemala. Puerto Barrios is reported captured by an air-sea attack mounted from Hog Island, off the Honduran coast, and San Jose, second principal port, has also been attacked. Guatemala's capital, Guatemala City, has been bombed and the key rail center of Zacapa has reportedly been seized by the invaders. Uprisings are reported at Retalhuleu and Quezaltenango.

Germany's Christel Is Miss Europe, 1954

VICHY, France (AP)—Auburn-haired Christel Schaak, 25-year-old mannequin from Berlin, has been elected Miss Europe, 1954, by beauty judges at the annual competition here.

broadcasting over the Columbia Broadcasting System, reported yesterday the Guatemalan army did not seem to be making any preparations to resist the invasion. She said few troops were to be seen on the streets of the capital city. The correspondent, Flora Lewis, is representing the London Daily Express in Guatemala City. Rebel headquarters here reported the capture of three towns near the Honduran border—Asquipulas, Jocotan and Quezaltenango. It also said insurgent forces had cut the vital railroad from Puerto Barrios to Guatemala City near Morales.

(At the United Nations, Guatemalan representatives confirmed the fall of Morales and Asquipulas. They said the invaders also had taken the town of Bananera. All three were described as small towns, close together, about 10 miles inside Guatemala.)

A spokesman for Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, leader of the "liberation army," said here the drive toward the Pan-American Highway was aimed at Jutiapa, a town of 5,000, some 45 miles south of Guatemala City. It lies 20 miles north of the El Salvador border. Other rebel units also were reported heading toward Asuncion Mita, a town of 3,000, 13 miles northeast of Jutiapa.

Reporting the dropping of supplies to insurgents inside Guatemala, the spokesman said small-scale uprisings had occurred at Tutonicapan, Retalhuleu and Huehuetenango, towns north and west of Guatemala City, nearer the Mexican border.

Rebel headquarters claimed government soldiers "are deserting to our side" and declared the Arbenz government had no confidence in its army. Spokesmen gave no estimate on the number of deserters, however.

A spokesman said the rebel force consisted of 5,000 men, all Guatemalans. The Arbenz government has charged Castillo Armas received aid from Nicaragua. It also has asserted the rebel force is composed of adventurers from other Central American nations, in addition to Guatemalan exiles.

The Guatemalan fighting sparked some anti-U.S. demonstrations in other Latin-American nations.

In Havana, police reported a group of Cuban Communists attacked the office of the United Press, throwing stones and other objects at the news agency quarters. Windows were broken but no one was injured. Police said they made some arrests.

Chilean students shouting pro-Guatemalan slogans burned the U.S. flag in downtown Santiago Saturday night. The demonstrators represented seven political parties, ranging from left-wing Socialists to conservative Social Christians.

In Buenos Aires, the pro-government newspaper Critica said Guatemala is "surrounded by enemies" giving help to "exiled Guatemalan revolutionaries." In the first Argentine newspaper comment on the uprising, Critica said the Guatemalan government "clashed with the powerful interests of the United Fruit Co. and its subsidiaries" while fighting for national sovereignty.

Congress Highlights

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Investigations subcommittee meets in closed session to explore the possibility of writing a single report on its inquiry into the McCarthy-Army controversy. Statements by some of the four Republican and three Democratic subcommittee members indicate there's little likelihood all can agree to a single report.

The subcommittee also wrestles with another problem—a demand by Asst. Secretary of Defense H. Struve Hensel that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) be rebuked for naming him in the original McCarthy charges against top Army officials. Hensel asks the subcommittee to dismiss the charge and submit an affidavit which he contends shows that McCarthy has admitted having no evidence to support an accusation against Hensel. The subcommittee earlier dropped Hensel as a principal in the controversy but didn't pass on the merits of McCarthy's charge.

McCarthy is vacationing at an undisclosed spot and cannot be reached for comment.

Truman Doing Fine After An Operation

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman, reported in satisfactory condition today after an emergency operation, probably will be able to leave the hospital in 10 days.

His appendix and gall bladder were removed early yesterday. The 70-year-old ex-President was able to sit up in a chair for a brief period yesterday. He told his doctor he considered himself just another patient at Research Hospital and didn't want any fuss made in his behalf.

Dr. Wallace Graham, his physician who also was his personal doctor during White House days, said Truman should be able to leave the hospital in 10 days if all goes well.

"Mr. Truman is a perfect patient," he said. "He expects you to know certain things and he expects you to be sure of them. Then he doesn't fuss or worry. He decides to get things fixed."

The physician said he was "very ill" when he entered the hospital, but had stood the operation extremely well.

He first became ill Friday night while attending the play "Call Me Madam" at the outdoor Starlight Theater.

Mrs. Truman remained at the hospital during the operation. After a visit with her husband later in the day, she said he was "in good spirits as usual."

During his seven-year stay in the White House, Truman suffered several gall bladder attacks and had periodic X-ray checks. Dr. Graham disclosed. The doctor said these were painful but not very severe.

He described the gall bladder as being in gangrenous condition at the time of the surgery.
